PHILOSOPHY

We believe by bringing parents and children together in the warm and supportive environment of our Temple, very young children can be nurtured and begin the socialization process appropriate to their developmental level.

ACTIVITIES

Our classes provide a fun playtime in a Jewish environment. Toddlers learn about the Jewish holidays; celebrate Shabbat; experience song and movement activities; and enjoy storytime, music and art--as well as having time to play with new found friends.

Children are encouraged to explore our warm and inviting classroom, filled with high-quality toys, puzzles and manipulatives, which enhance hand-eye coordination, develop fine motor skills and encourage socialization.

Parents have an opportunity to discuss their children's growth and development, as well as issues pertinent to their lives as parents.

FACTS AT A GLANCE

Eligibility

Open to Temple and non-Temple children 12-23 months of age (12 months by December 1).

ENROLLMENT SPECIFICATIONS

Toddlers must be accompanied by a parent or grandparent. The emphasis of the program is placed on parent-toddler interaction and parent-to-parent interaction. However, toddlers of working parents may be accompanied by a household staff member.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

The adult responsible for the toddler must remain with the child at all times. We regret that we cannot allow older children to visit the class. Infants are allowed if they are in "snuggly"-type carriers. (We cannot accommodate strollers or buggies, due to space limitations.)

ENROLLMENT

Registration is accepted in the order received, with priority given to Temple members.
